PART TWO

APPLICANT'S ATTITUDES

INTRODUCTION

This report provides information on the four Attitude Scales (Integrity, Substance Abuse, Reliability and Work Ethic). Each attitude is represented by a graph. The paragraph below each graph describes the applicant's attitude.

Some of the applicant's responses may suggest further inquiry during the interview. Also included are possible interview questions related to the scales. The number for each question is shown in parentheses. Note that the "Critical Issue" statements are written to the interviewer and should not be asked of the applicant.

SECTION I – Attitude Scores

Integrity – (Adherence to moral and ethical principles acceptable in the workplace.)

	2
--	---	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

Thomas often states that property is only safe when companies take extra efforts to secure it. He seems to feel that property is open for the taking if not adequately protected.

The following interview questions are presented for your consideration as you interview Mr. Trouble:

Critical Issue: Does the applicant possess an overly careless attitude about rules or procedures concerning company property?

Applicant's Response: (2) Taking something from your company with the good intention of paying for it later is not the same as stealing. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- What's the difference between stealing and taking company property that you pay for later?
- Would you say that your opinion about this is somewhat speculative, or have you done something like this yourself, even though you had an excuse?
- Would you say that some rules concerning taking company property (even if you DO pay for it later) are too strict? Why?

Critical Issue: Does the applicant tend to equivocate about stealing in order to hide an unacceptable behavior?

Applicant's Response: (10) There are some circumstances that justify taking money or merchandise without permission from your employer. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- What circumstances would you say justify the taking of money or merchandise?
- What makes these circumstances different? What makes them appropriate?
- Is your perspective on this issue purely hypothetical, or has there been a time in which you acted upon these circumstances yourself?

Critical Issue: Does the applicant's attitude about wages imply actual theft potential?

Applicant's Response: (56) It is only fair to steal from your employer to make up for low wages. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- What is it about low wages that provokes some people to steal from their employers?
- Would you say that this situation is common, or just an extreme circumstance? Why?
- You described low wages as a reasonable excuse for stealing, so how often have you found that your wages in previous jobs motivated you to steal?

Critical Issue: While the applicant may not be motivated to steal money, is he likely to consider materials as acceptable targets for theft?

Applicant's Response: (60) Stealing equipment, supplies and merchandise from your company is not the same as stealing money. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- Would you treat employee theft of money casually if you were a manager or supervisor? How about employee theft of merchandise or supplies?
- What's the difference, if any, between stealing money from an employer and stealing merchandise or other materials?
- Have you ever known of a co-worker stealing merchandise or supplies from work? Would you or have you done the same?

Substance Abuse – (Attitudes toward substance abuse in the workplace.)

		3
--	--	---	--	--	--	--	--	--

Thomas appears to be very tolerant of substance abuse related behaviors in the workplace.

The following interview questions are presented for your consideration as you interview Mr. Trouble:

Critical Issue: Is working while under the influence of illegal drugs a behavior that the applicant is likely to do?

Applicant's Response: (11) There is nothing wrong with using illegal drugs on the job if it helps you to relax and do a better job. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- You seem to feel that some people may have their own reasons to use illegal drugs while on the job. Have you ever done so yourself?
- You have stated that some illegal drugs can improve job performance. Can you explain more about this and have you tried this tactic to improve your own performance?
- Your statement about using drugs to relax on the job is interesting. Would this be a purely hypothetical point of view, or have you tried this yourself in the past?

Critical Issue: Is the applicant expressing a hypothetical opinion or is this a sign of habitual on-the-job drug use?

Applicant's Response: (39) It is okay to use illegal drugs on the job as long as it does not become a habit. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- Habitual drug use while on the job is something you do not seem to tolerate. What would you define as "habitual" drug use and what on-the-job drug use is actually okay?
- Although you obviously do not think that habitual on-the-job drug use is okay, what about any use that is less than "habitual?"
- You may have implied that less-than-habitual on-the-job drug use is okay, but did you mean that this is something you've done before?

Critical Issue: Is the applicant's ambivalent attitude concerning drugs a sign that drug use may be possible when he is at work?

Applicant's Response: (62) There is never a good reason to use illegal drugs while at work. (Mr. Trouble disagrees)

Interview Questions:

- What would you say are a few reasons someone might use illegal drugs while at work?
- Have you ever been motivated by such reasons to use one or more illegal drugs while at work?
- Did you follow through with that reasoning or is your opinion about this more of an opinion, rather than something that relates directly to your own experiences?

Reliability – (Attitudes toward tardiness and personal dependability deemed acceptable in the workplace.)

		3
--	--	---	--	--	--	--	--	--

Mr. Trouble does not typically express a willingness to completely accept the intentions of others or conform to the authority of his supervisors.

The following interview questions are presented for your consideration as you interview Mr. Trouble:

Critical Issue: Is the applicant referring to himself?

Applicant's Response: (1) Most people try to do the right thing when given a chance. (Mr. Trouble disagrees)

Interview Questions:

- Why do you believe that most people will not do the right thing when given a chance?
- Can you give a specific example that supports this belief?

Critical Issue: Is the applicant overly critical, negative and fault finding?

Applicant's Response: (3) I believe I should overlook other people's faults and make an effort to get along with everyone. (Mr. Trouble disagrees)

Interview Questions:

- Why do you believe you should not overlook other people's faults and make efforts to get along with everyone?
- Any particular faults?
- Any specific individual or group of people?

Critical Issue: Is the applicant biased against any specific group of people?

Applicant's Response: (8) There are many things about people that really annoy me. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Question:

- What annoys you most about people?

Critical Issue: Can this applicant be trusted not to cheat and/or steal?

Applicant's Response: (66) Everybody will cheat and steal if they know they won't get caught. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- Why do you believe everybody would cheat and steal if they know they won't get caught?
- Recent experience or example, consequence?

Work Ethic – (Belief in the value of work and appropriate supervisory relationships in the workplace.)

		3
--	--	---	--	--	--	--	--	--

Mr. Trouble often states the opinion that strict guidelines for performance hamper a worker's freedom. For example, he may feel that taking long lunches is no major concern.

The following interview questions are presented for your consideration as you interview Mr. Trouble:

Critical Issue: Is the applicant going to follow rules?

Applicant's Response: (18) It is okay to get around rules, as long as you don't actually break them. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- When is it okay to get around rules?
- Work related example, what was the rule? How did you get around it? What was the outcome?
- When is it not okay to get around the rules?
- What is the difference between getting around vs. breaking rules?

Critical Issue: Is the applicant actually willing to cheat others of their well-deserved recognition or is this merely an example of immodest self-confidence?

Applicant's Response: (43) It would bother me to receive credit for something I did not deserve. (Mr. Trouble disagrees)

Interview Questions:

- Have you ever received credit for something you did not deserve?
- What was it for and what was the credit?
- Who should have actually received the credit?

Critical Issue: Is this tendency going to cause work related problems?

Applicant's Response: (57) I usually do most of the work and get little of the credit. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- Why do you feel you do most of the work and get little of the credit?
- Any recent example?
- Who was responsible for this situation?

Critical Issue: Does the applicant possess a persistently bad attitude?

Applicant's Response: (73) I am often blamed for things I didn't do. (Mr. Trouble agrees)

Interview Questions:

- Why do you feel you are often blamed for things you did not do?
- Who is doing the blaming, for what things, why are you being blamed?
- Have you tried to change this situation? Consequences?
